The school districts listed below either have an active Technology Readiness Tool account, which may or may not be complete, or have opted out of the data collection process. Any completion status less than 100% indicates an incomplete account. Account holders can visit their district's Mark Data Complete section of the Technology Readiness Tool account to see what data they might be missing. If interested parties do not see the name of their district on the list, it indicates that their district does not have an active Technology Readiness Tool account and should request one from the Ohio State Resource Coordinator Team (ODE.OhioTRT@education.ohio.gov).
