Supporting Regular Attendance - A resource for high school students.

Dear <<insert student>>,

Regular school attendance is important for your academic success. A few absences every month can add up to weeks of lost learning over the year. Our school day is <<XX>> hours a day, and you've missed <<XX>> hours of school as of <<Insert date>>. Your peers have missed an average of <<XX>> hours. Missing school, whether for excused or unexcused reasons, disrupts your education and there are some lessons and activities that can't be made up at home. We understand that some absences can't be avoided, but let's be a team and work together to get you to school on time every day, because every class period matters.
