

Nancy Q. Miller

Canton South High School
Canton Local Schools

A five-time awardee of the Teacher of Influence Award at Canton South High School, Nancy Q. Miller is proud to say she has been a science teacher for 34 years. Currently, she is the lead biology teacher for sophomores and biomedical sciences for grades 9-12 at the school, which is part of Canton Local Schools. Miller also serves as the science department chair and a member of the district leadership team.

Miller holds a Bachelor of Science degree in education from Clarion University of Pennsylvania. She earned her Master of Science degree in education from Walden University.

