

2022-2023 Mathematics Modeling and Reasoning Pilot Participants

Background

The Ohio Department of Education partnered with the Ohio Department of Higher Education and the Ohio Math Initiative (OMI) to create a math transition course to prepare Ohio high school seniors who have not earned a remediation-free score for a college entry-level mathematics course. (Entry-level mathematics courses may include Quantitative Reasoning, Statistics and Probability, or College Algebra pathway courses.) This course is titled Mathematical Modeling and Reasoning, and the curriculum was created by Ohio postsecondary and secondary math faculty.

This course has since been modified from a fourth-year transition course to an Algebra 2 equivalent course and will satisfy the credit requirement for Algebra 2. Students who succeed in this course may take an Algebra 2 course, College Credit Plus course or AP math course in their fourth year.

The following districts and postsecondary institutions are participating in the pilot during the 2022-2023 school year:
