34rd ANNUAL ELEMENTARY PHYSICAL EDUCATION

WORKSHOP

MARCH 12, 2019

“GAMES THAT WORK”

“Games That Work” Our story

WHO: The workshop was developed by Physical Education Resource Teachers of the Canton City School District. Graduate Credit (if so desired) is available through Malone University. Workshop registration is open to all physical educators.

WHAT: Sharing is the theme of the workshop. Dress to participate! If every person is willing to share one of their activities (an activity that is highly active, develops skills, and is fun), we should all come away from the workshop enriched. “Games That Work” workshop has become nationally known because of its unique set-up and quality presenters that submit quality “Games”.

Many workshop participants will present the game they submit with their registration. This will allow demonstration of 20-25 excellent activities during the course of the day.

WHY: This workshop is presented as an in-service program designed to upgrade the quality of all elementary physical education programs, renew the enthusiasm for physical education and offer the opportunity to meet, share and compare ideas. You make this workshop work. It is because of outstanding physical education teachers, who have attended annually, contributing their innovative ideas that make this workshop so successful.

PROGRAM: Submit your traditional or unique “Games That Work”. Quality ideas make this program work. If you have a great game that you use, send the description of that game. “Games That Work” is a non-profit workshop, designed by physical educators for the benefit of physical educators.

Books containing all games and activities submitted, not just presented, will be given to all registrants. The first 50 correctly completed registrations will receive a door prize in addition to their “Games That Work” activity book. To receive a “Games That Work” activity book you must submit a TYPED description of your activity (game).

HOW: To register, follow the instructions on the registration form and mail your check for $40.00 to the Canton City School District. This includes the morning hospitality table, buffet lunch and game book.
The Lesson Format must be typed and completed in its entirety.

If you have questions or concerns about our workshop, you can email us at:
gamesthatwork@ccsdistrict.org or by phone to Tamara Clark at 330-580-3564.
