Application

Student Performance Task

Students read and discuss Baltimore Waltz (Vogel), Angels in America: Millennium Approaches (Kushner), and Rent (Larson) within the context of the AIDS outbreaks in urban centers in the early 1990s.

Students discuss the 1968 production Hair! as a response to rising anti-war sentiment in regard to the Vietnam War.

Students write director’s notes pages for a program or a curtain speech to be delivered before a performance.

Students survey the audience before/after a performance to assess attitudes of current social issues, then chart data to see if perceptions change or correlate to audience response to production.

Enduring Understandings: Critical and Creative Thinking; Authentic Application and Collaboration
- Students combine and apply artistic and reasoning skills to imagine, create, relate and refine dramatic and theatrical works in conventional and innovative ways and to understand the works produced and performed by others;
- Students work individually and in groups to focus ideas and create and perform works that address genuine local and global community needs.

Progress Points:
- Use a variety of sources and multimedia to research, create, perform and refine dramatic and theatrical works that are personally meaningful;
- Demonstrate self-direction, persistence and focus when working independently in dramatic and theatrical contexts;
- Interpret and transform new and traditional dramatic texts for informal and formal productions.

Essential Question
How do theatre artists use their analytic and intuitive abilities in the creative process? What is the actor’s relationship to the text?

Standard Content Statement & Code

6RE: Assemble a personal drama or theatre portfolio with a resume to include completed works and works-in-progress.

Enduring Understandings: Personal Choice and Vision
- Students construct and solve problems of personal relevance and interest when expressing themselves in the dramatic and theatrical arts.

Progress Points:
- Engage with the dramatic and theatrical arts to help them connect to other disciplines, people and events in the world around them.
- Use drama and theatre to inspire the larger community to value lifelong involvement in the arts.

Essential Question
What role do theatre and theatre-related industries play in terms of spending, economic and cultural impact and jobs?

Content Elaborations

Students will learn…
- Artists are often self-employed and must employ strategies to promote their own work;
- Artists need to possess the traditional skills used in securing work, but must also possess additional skills unique to the arts.

Expectations for Learning

Students will demonstrate learning by…
- Recognizing how theatre resumes are similar to traditional job resumes in some ways, but different in others;
- Presenting a portfolio of their completed work and their works-in-progress that illustrates the range and depth of their theatrical skills.

Instructional Strategies and Resources

Students will be engaged and supported in learning by…
- Examining sample resumes and portfolio;
- Small group work;

- Students work individually and in groups to focus ideas and create and perform works to address genuine local and global community needs.
- As consumers, critics and creators, students evaluate and understand dramatic and theatrical works and other texts produced in the media forms of the day.

Essential Question

How does theatre mirror and/or influence the social, educational, political, economic, religious and technological development and climate of its time?
How is aesthetic sensitivity and understanding of drama/theatre developed?
In what way does theatre provide unique insight into human experience?

Content Elaborations

- The purpose of drama is to entertain, educate, and engage;
- A playwright’s effort to educate and engage is conveyed through treatment of universal themes;
- Some playwrights use situations, characters, and conflicts to attempt to impart a moral or message.

Expectations for Learning

- Students will demonstrate learning by...
  - Identifying similar themes across a playwright’s works;
  - Recognizing the playwright’s intended message relative to the identified theme;
  - Assessing the effectiveness, social relevance and timeliness of the message.

Instructional Strategies and Resources

Standard Content Statement & Code

7RE: Assemble a personal drama or theatre portfolio with a resume to include completed works and works-in-progress and then present the portfolio to peers.

Enduring Understandings:
Personal Choice and Vision, Critical and Creative Thinking & Authentic Application and Collaboration
- Students construct and solve problems of personal relevance and interest when expressing themselves in the dramatic and theatrical arts.
- Students combine and apply artistic and reasoning skills to imagine, create, realize and refine dramatic and theatrical works in conventional and innovative ways and to understand the works produced and performed by others.
- Students work individually and in groups to focus ideas and create and perform works to address genuine local and global community needs.

Progress Points:
- Demonstrate self-direction, persistence and focus when working independently in dramatic and theatrical contexts.
- Engage with the dramatic and theatrical arts to help them connect to other disciplines, people and events in the world around them.

Essential Question
What role do theatre and theatre-related industries play in terms of spending, economic and cultural impact and jobs?
