Foreword

The Career Field Technical Content Standards serve as the curricular framework for Ohio’s career-technical education pathway programs as outlined in Ohio Administrative Code 3301-61-03 (Criteria for Secondary Workforce Development Programs).

Career Field Technical Content Standards outline the knowledge and skills needed for success in careers across multiple pathways. Validated by Ohio business and industry representatives, these standards form the basis for developing educational programming in Ohio secondary schools. The standards also serve as the framework for developing strong career pathways that connect secondary education with postsecondary education systems and the workplace.

This version of Career Field Technical Content Standards is intended to support the ongoing evolution of career technical education pathway programs. The standards tend to be somewhat broader than previous versions and are not repeated for individual pathways or occupational areas. The broader and non-duplicated statements are intended to capture the knowledge and skills that can be applied across any number of occupations in a pathway rather than focusing on the requirement of a single occupation. After all, the intent of a pathway program is to prepare a student for a range of educational and career opportunities following high school.

Pathway programs prepare students to combine broad knowledge, insight and understanding of business processes, academic attainment and workplace readiness with depth of knowledge and expertise in a technical area. Knowing that many careers will require some level of postsecondary education, the content standards also delineate the knowledge and skills necessary to seamlessly transition to postsecondary educational programs.

This document seeks to provide the basis for educational programming that will provide the employee with fundamental skill-sets that employers demand. This ensures that Ohio’s workforce of tomorrow is competitive in a global environment. An environment that requires knowledge and skills can be applied in a broader context, aimed at innovation to support new products and services in an ever-changing economy.

In addition to the extensive engagement of secondary and postsecondary educators and business/industry professionals, development of these standards represents a collaborative effort of the following professional partners: the Ohio Department of Education’s Office of Career-Technical Education; the Ohio Board of Regents Secondary Career-Technical Alignment Initiative; and MBA Research and Curriculum Center.

Those listed above provided vision and implementation support for the Education and Training Career Field Technical Content Standards and Ohio’s Early Childhood Education and Teaching Professions educational programs.
Philosophy and Principles for Implementation

Ohio Career Field Initiative

The overarching framework for Ohio career-technical education is outlined in the Ohio Revised Code and subsequent administrative rules, which specify career-technical programming based on 16 career fields. To view the full text of Administrative Rule 3301-61-03 (Criteria for Secondary Workforce Development Programs), go to: http://education.ohio.gov/Topics/Career-Tech/Career-Development-OCIS/CTE-Administrative-Rules-Update. These 16 fields provide the framework for an Ohio career field initiative that seeks to foster the educational shift necessary to respond to the needs of a rapidly changing global environment.

A career field is a “group of occupations and broad industries based on common characteristics” (see www.careertech.org). Career fields are the basis for developing both broad and specialized technical content standards that serve as a framework for curriculum, instruction, assessment and program design, addressing the needs of an entire industry and business sector. Ohio’s 16 career fields align with national efforts to broaden career-technical education, integrate career-technical with academic study and reflect the workforce needs of today and tomorrow. For today’s students to be adequately prepared for tomorrow’s workforce, they must have an education that:

- Incorporates a broad, long-term conception of work in combination with the depth of specialization skills;
  Employees need a comprehensive understanding beyond a single occupational area. Career-technical programming needs to be provided in a larger context, so students can generalize learning, make connections between education and work and adapt to changes in their careers. Workplace knowledge and skills are needed to prepare employees for collaborating and problem solving while contributing to the broader business process.

- Emphasizes the acquisition of strong academic knowledge and skills; and Academic skills provide the foundation for career success. The integration of academic content standards with career field technical content standards helps to contextualize learning for students, making English language arts, mathematics, social studies and science relevant to students as a means to an important end—success at work and in life.

- Facilitates high-school-to-postsecondary transitions.
  A lifetime of change means a lifetime of learning, including postsecondary education. Students need knowledge and skills for success in a variety of postsecondary options, including apprenticeships, industry credentialing through adult education, two- and four-year college degree programs and graduate school.
Career Pathways

A key component of the Ohio Career Field Initiative is a career pathway, which is a coherent, articulated sequence of rigorous academic and career-technical coursework commencing in the ninth grade and leading to an associate degree, baccalaureate degree and beyond—an industry-recognized certificate and/or licensure. Pathways facilitate a seamless transition from high school to postsecondary education (including apprenticeships, adult education, two- and four-year colleges and graduate school) and from postsecondary education to the workplace. The career pathway is developed, implemented and maintained in partnership among secondary and postsecondary education, business and employers. Career pathways are available to all students, including adult learners and lead to rewarding careers.

To effectively facilitate the transition from secondary to postsecondary education and a career, high school career pathways should encompass:

1. Challenging technical coursework in a chosen career field based on career field technical content standards;
2. Rigorous academics that meet Ohio’s academic content standards and grade-level expectations;
3. Electives that relate to career objectives;
4. Instructional enhancements such as experiential and authentic learning opportunities (e.g., work-based learning, mentorships, internships) and career-technical student organization participation;
5. Opportunities (when appropriate) for program and student certification and licensure;
6. Preparation for transition to further study that includes college readiness and opportunities to earn college credit while in high school;
7. Preparation for transition to employment with advancement opportunities;
8. Performance targets that include high school academic and technical testing/exit and postsecondary entry/placement requirements;
9. Various sector(s) within an industry or encompass a function that crosses industry sectors;
10. The scope of opportunities in the related industry and available college programs;
11. Opportunities to prepare for a range of careers, including
   a. multiple employment opportunities after high school and
   b. opportunities for students to enter and succeed in postsecondary and continuing education programs;
12. Transferable skills required for employment in the range of occupations aligned to the pathway; and
13. Opportunities to learn skills across the pathway as well as in specialized areas.

Structure and Format

The Career Field Technical Content Standards document is composed of a series of strands comprised of outcomes that each contains a set of competencies.

- A strand is a large content area under which multiple outcomes are organized, regardless of the pathway. It includes a title and a concise description with statements that capture multiple, broad areas of student knowledge and skills expected across all outcomes in the strand. There are approximately six strands of content per career field. Strand 1, Business Operations/21st Century Skills (employability skills, leadership and communications, business ethics and law, knowledge management and information technology, global environment, business literacy, entrepreneurship/entrepreneurs, operations management, financial management, sales and marketing and principles of business economics), is the same for all career-technical education career fields.

- An outcome is an overarching statement that summarizes the knowledge and skills described in a set of individual competencies to be learned by the end of the 12th grade. There are usually 5–15 outcomes within a strand, depending on the breadth of content to be addressed.

- A competency is a specific statement of essential knowledge or skill to be learned in the pathway program. There are usually 5–12 competencies under an outcome.

Each set of outcomes and competencies is included in one or more pathways in the career field. Outcomes and competencies form the basis for developing secondary courses, programs, instruction and assessment, facilitating transition from one educational level to the next and to the workplace. This supports career readiness and long-term career success by:

- Providing the basis for effective collaboration, teamwork and communication across pathways;
- Laying the groundwork for successful transfer of knowledge and skills across pathways, thereby facilitating horizontal and vertical career success and
- Equipping students and workers with the skills needed to transition to new and emerging careers throughout a working lifetime.

All outcomes and competencies in the Career Field Technical Content Standards have been verified as essential by education practitioners within the pathway or pathways specified, or they were considered essential by postsecondary faculty and Ohio Department of Education staff.

These essential outcomes and competencies specify industry-based knowledge or hands-on skills that CTE students need by the end of the 12th grade to be successful in their selected career pathway and on-going learning (such as college, apprenticeships and military opportunities).
Development of the Education and Training Career Field Technical Content Standards

The process for the development of the Business and Administrative Services, Finance and Marketing Career Field Technical Content Standards began in July 2015 and culminated in May, 2016. Over the course of 2015 and 2016, numerous education administrators and practitioners as well as secondary and postsecondary educators from across the state of Ohio took part in the formal development process. The following summarizes the various stages of the development process.

Futuring Panels
On September 11, 2015, the Education and Training futuring panels brought together key leaders in Early Childhood Education and the Teaching Professions pathways from across the state to advise the Ohio Department of Education on trends impacting the Education and Training career fields. The participants were asked to share their perceptions on changes in education, employment trends, changes in skill requirements, needed education and training readiness skills and available industry-recognized standards and credentials. This feedback was used to develop and streamline the standards document into what is most demanded by educational institutions.

Validation Panels
On May 12, 2016, a diverse group of Ohio educators participated in panels to validate the importance of the work-related competencies in the draft standards document. Drawn from various regions of the state, the panels identified what educators should know and be able to do in the Early Childhood Education and Teaching Professions pathways.

Postsecondary Alignment
The goal of the Secondary Career-Technical Alignment Initiative (SCTAI) was to develop new statewide Career-Technical Assurance Guides (CTAGs) for secondary career-technical institutions using the combined process of the Ohio Department of Higher Education’s CTAG development process with the Ohio Department of Education’s Career Field Technical Content Standards development process. The result of this collaboration was a tighter alignment between secondary career-technical and postsecondary content and the development of pathways that encourage college-going and increase statewide postsecondary options for career technical students. For more information on CTAGs and opportunities for statewide postsecondary articulated transfer credit, visit https://student-transfer.ohiohighered.org.

Career Pathway Definitions

The Education and Training Career Field prepares students for careers in various teaching and child care related positions in a number of different environments.

Early Childhood Education

The Early Childhood Education program areas will prepare students for professional careers in both public and private childcare and educational environments.

Careers for which this pathway prepares students include:

Teaching Assistant, Child Care Worker, Day Care Center Operator, Educational Aide, Student Monitor

Postsecondary majors for which this pathway prepares students include:

Early and Middle Childhood Studies, Early Childhood Education, Middle Childhood Education, Special Education, Technical Education and Training, Human Development and Family Science, Social Work, Elementary Education Administration, Psychology, Counselor Education

Teaching Professions

The Teaching Profession program areas will prepare students for professional careers in educational institutions. In the majority of cases, individuals will need to obtain a baccalaureate degree and teacher certification as a part of the qualifications for being in charge of a classroom.

Careers for which this pathway prepares students include:

Teaching Assistant, Educational Aide, Student Monitor

Postsecondary majors for which this pathway prepares students include:

Early and Middle Childhood Studies, Early Childhood Education, Middle Childhood Education, Special Education, Technical Education and Training, Human Development and Family Science, Social Work, Elementary Education Administration, Psychology, Counselor Education

5.5.8. Compare independent reading with silent-sustained reading.
5.5.9. Explain reading comprehension strategies used by the learner.
5.5.10. Describe features and types of factual and fictional texts.
5.5.11. Describe the characteristics, purposes and examples of graphic organizers.
5.5.12. Identify oral language activities appropriate for specific instructional strategies.
Strand 5. Curriculum and Instruction

Students apply developmentally and intellectually appropriate pedagogies to develop curriculum and implement instructional strategies that promote the physical, cognitive and emotional development of learners.

Outcome 5.6. Literacy Instruction

Implement instructional strategies and methods to develop learners’ reading, writing, listening and speaking skills.

Webb’s Depth of Knowledge Analysis

This analysis identifies Webb’s Depth of Knowledge (DOK) level for each competency organized into strands and outcomes based on the four levels of DOK described below:

1. Recall and Reproduction
   Explain simple concepts or routine procedures; recall elements and details; recall a fact, term or property; conduct basic calculations; order rational numbers; identify a standard scientific representation for simple phenomenon; label locations; describe features of a place or people; identify figurative language in a reading passage.

2. Skills and Concepts
   Solve routine multiple step problems; describe non-trivial patterns; interpret information from a simple graph; formulate a routine problem, given data and conditions; sort objects; show relationships; apply a concept; organize, represent and interpret data; use context clues to identify the meaning of unfamiliar words; describe the cause/effect of a particular event; predict a logical outcome; identify patterns in events or behavior.

3. Strategic Thinking
   Solve non-routine problems; interpret information from a complex graph; explain phenomena in terms of concepts; support ideas with details and examples; develop a scientific model for a complex situation; formulate conclusions from experimental data; compile information from multiple sources to address a specific topic; develop a logical argument; identify and then justify a solution; identify the author’s purpose and explain how it affects the interpretation of a reading selection.

4. Extended Thinking
   Design and conduct an experiment that requires specifying a problem and report results/solutions; synthesize ideas into new concepts; critique experimental designs; design a mathematical model to inform and solve a practical or abstract situation; connect common themes across texts from different cultures; synthesize information from multiple sources.

Strand 3. Learners and Their Development: Students apply basic physical, cognitive and social development theories to enable learners to thrive in the learning environment.

Outcome 3.1. Growth and Development Theories: Apply the theoretical foundations of human growth and development that can enhance work with learners.

3.1.1. Describe the interdependence of the developmental domains (e.g., social, emotional, cognitive, language, sensory, creative, physical, adaptive).

3.1.2. Explain developmental stages and milestones.

3.1.3. Explain growth and development theories (e.g., Piaget’s stages of cognitive development, Erickson’s theory of human development, Kohlberg’s stages of moral development).

3.1.4. Apply development theories to different ages and stages of learner development.

3.1.5. Develop holistic view of learners through the application of growth and development theories.

5.5.4. Identify instructional approaches used to teach reading and writing. 2
5.5.5. Identify instructional strategies used to teach reading. 2
| 5.5.6. | Identify factors to consider in the selection of texts for readers. | 2 |
| 5.5.7. | Compare the use of traditional reading groups and guided reading groups. | 3 |
| 5.5.8. | Compare independent reading with silent-sustained reading. | 2 |
| 5.5.9. | Explain reading comprehension strategies used by the learner. | 2 |
| 5.5.10. | Describe features and types of factual and fictional texts. | 2 |
| 5.5.11. | Describe the characteristics, purposes and examples of graphic organizers. | 2 |
| 5.5.12. | Identify oral language activities appropriate for specific instructional strategies. | 3 |

Outcome 5.6. Literacy Instruction: Implement instructional strategies and methods to develop learners' reading, writing, listening and speaking skills.

| 5.6.1. | Collaborate with learners to establish reading goals and expectations. | 3 |
| 5.6.2. | Plan and implement strategies to promote phonemic awareness, phonics and word study. | 3 |
| 5.6.3. | Implement activities to encourage readers to respond to texts. | 3 |
| 5.6.4. | Implement activities for learners to identify similarities and differences in the structure of texts, sentences, words and letters. | 3 |
| 5.6.5. | Develop and implement reading activities that activate and extend a learner’s background knowledge. | 3 |
| 5.6.6. | Implement reading comprehension strategies. | 3 |
| 5.6.7. | Select and implement instructional methods to enhance learners’ reading comprehension. | 3 |
| 5.6.8. | Model how to decode words. | 2 |
| 5.6.9. | Implement strategies to enable learners to build their vocabulary in the context of reading. | 3 |
| 5.6.10. | Model reading strategies for learners to utilize for challenging words. | 2 |
| 5.6.11. | Plan and conduct read-alouds. | 2 |
| 5.6.12. | Conduct shared readings. | 2 |
| 5.6.13. | Use prompts questions and cues to encourage readers to figure out difficult words and texts. | 2 |
| 5.6.14. | Plan and conduct guided reading lessons. | 2 |
| 5.6.15. | Plan, conduct, and monitor independent reading. | 2 |
| 5.6.16. | Utilize techniques that help to develop prewriting skills. | 3 |
| 5.6.17. | Implement writing activities to use for reading instruction. | 3 |
| 5.6.18. | Implement scaffolding strategies to expand language and writing experiences based on children’s interests. | 4 |
| 5.6.19. | Provide support to readers in their zone of proximal development. | 3 |
| 5.6.20. | Assist learners in developing non-verbal cues and listening skills. | 2 |
| 5.6.21. | Promote learner-to-learner and learner-to-adult conversations. | 2 |

Strand 7. Observation and Assessment Foundations: Students create and administer observations and diagnostic, formative and summative assessments and use the resulting data to modify and improve instruction, to determine needed remediation and to adjust future observations and assessments.

Outcome 7.1. Observation and Assessment Foundations: Describe the value and need for observation and assessment in the education process.
7.1.1. Compare the purpose, value and use of formal and informal observation.
7.1.2. Describe the impact of observation findings on curriculum and needed environmental changes.
7.1.3. Explain the purposes and impact of assessment.
7.1.4. Explain how assessments can be used as an effective medium for communications between the instructor and the learner.
7.1.5. Distinguish among formative, summative and diagnostic assessment.
7.1.6. Distinguish between norm-referenced and criterion-referenced assessments.
7.1.7. Describe the need to provide immediate and frequent feedback to learners.
7.1.8. Explain the potential use of adaptive technologies in assessment.
7.1.9. Describe the use and value of mastery learning techniques.

Outcome 7.2. Observation: Administer formal observations to evaluate learners’ growth and development progress and to diagnose problems.

7.2.1. Identify procedures and best practices for administering formal observations.
7.2.2. Select tools for recording and categorizing learner progress.
7.2.3. Screen learners overall health status, developmental strengths and weaknesses.
7.2.4. Analyze learner’s nonverbal behaviors and rely on behavioral cues to see what a learner knows and can do.
7.2.5. Identify the development of learners’ receptive and expressive language skills by regularly and systematically observing learners in various contexts.
7.2.6. Maintain observational and anecdotal records to monitor learners’ development.
7.2.7. Use observation records to identify patterns, trends and conclusions about individuals and groups of learners.
7.2.8. Use formal observation to develop a holistic picture of the learner.
7.2.9. Use observation to scaffold learning for individual learners.
7.2.10. Prepare formal and informal learner observations that are objective and factual.
7.2.11. Assess development of learners’ literacy capabilities.
7.2.12. Identify reading concerns, and implement interventions.
7.2.13. Create a developmental plan for the learner.
7.2.14. Utilize ongoing learner observation to recognize developmental goal attainment.
7.2.15. Assess learners’ readiness to transition.
7.2.16. Use observations to align curricular activities.
7.2.17. Communicate observation outcomes to stakeholders.
