Statement of Interest and Philosophy

Statement of Goals

Wilberforce University’s goal as a Sponsor of charter schools in Ohio is to continue in our rich tradition of academic excellence and sponsor primary and secondary schools of academic excellence, and to create an educational continuum from primary to post secondary education for the students serviced by the schools we sponsor. Given our demonstrated capacity statewide, nationally, and globally, we desire to sponsor schools in the eligible districts statewide and to be authorized at least 50 charters.

Additionally we see our role as a Sponsor as an opportunity to stimulate and support new and innovative educational opportunities in order to provide both parents and communities with an increased number of quality school choices that fit individualized student learning needs and provide a secure future for our children.

Wilberforce University’s mission is to help our students identify and prepare for their respective purposes in life as global citizens by imparting knowledge, instilling discipline and inspiring lifelong learning through critical inquiry, personal development and practical application. We believe that access to quality primary and secondary educational opportunities provides students with a sound academic foundation that enables them to succeed at post-secondary education institutions and to become lifelong learners and productive global citizens.

We will demonstrate our commitment to the success of quality community schools by establishing and continually improving our policies and procedures in order to maintain high standards for community schools, uphold school autonomy, and protect student and public interests. In further consideration of the NACSA Standards, we will adhere to a non-discriminatory, non-selective access policy for all students. At Wilberforce University’s Academic Center for Student Success (the ACCESS Program) we currently demonstrate our commitment in providing the appropriate services for all students; including students with disabilities, English learners, homeless students, and gifted students in accordance with applicable law.

Role of the Sponsor in Working with Schools

Sponsoring organizations were initiated by State Legislation to sponsor the creation of and monitor the activities of community schools. The contract between the Sponsor and the Governing Authority of the community school establishes the foundation for oversight and the success of the school and the students. The Sponsor has a public obligation to ensure the community school complies with State and Federal education laws, meets its academic goals and exercises fiduciary responsibility for the public funds it receives. A representative of the Sponsor will conduct bi-monthly site visits to schools, monitor academic delivery and provide guidance and technical assistance. A Sponsor representative experienced in school finance will review school financial records to ensure each school is fiscally sound.
Sponsors provide oversight to community schools; ensures the schools maintain high educational and operational standards; preserves the autonomy of school developers/operators to develop innovative educational programs, and protects student and public interests. The Sponsor accepts and approves community school applications engage in responsible oversight of community schools by ensuring schools have both autonomy and public accountability. As a Sponsor we will be committed to adhere to principles and standards identified by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers and adopted by the Ohio Department of Education. The three core principles of community school authorizers are to “maintain high standards for schools, uphold school autonomy and protect student and public interest.” (as referenced at www.qualitycharters.org/)

According to the Ohio Department of Education and the Ohio Revised Code, a Sponsor provides ongoing support and services to the community schools it authorizes in accordance with a written contract between the Sponsor and the community school. In providing ongoing support the specific duties and responsibilities of a Sponsor approved by the Ohio Department of Education is outlined in rule, law, the sponsorship agreement with the ODE and the community school contract of each sponsored school. (as referenced at education.ohio.gov)

Chapter 3301.102 Community Schools provides specific information relating to duties and responsibilities of a Sponsor.

A Sponsor is responsible for:
- Accepting, analyzing and evaluating proposals from prospective charter school developers;
- Negotiating and executing charter school contracts, i.e. defining the charter;

Hemphill & Associates is a minority owned and controlled certified public accounting firm located in Columbus, Ohio. The Firm has a staff of seven (7) trained professionals with many years of audit experience with particular emphasis in the governmental and not-for-profit sectors.

Hemphill & Associates professionals have provided audit and consulting services to numerous public and private sector clients since its Columbus, Ohio office was opened in 1987 with the goal of establishing a presence easily accessible to markets located in all areas of central Ohio. Our office is operated from a modern downtown facility equipped with state of the art computer and technology equipment.

Hemphill and Associates is a Certified Public Accounting Firm located in Columbus, Ohio. The Firm has considerable experience in the performance of audit engagements involving not-for-profit agencies funded by federal, state and local sources. Engagements of this nature include the performance of financial and compliance audits of several Charter Schools located in central Ohio.

Our performance of these audits over the years has provided us with the insight and knowledge of the fiscal functions and responsibilities of School Treasurers. As a result this exposure, the Firm made the strategic decision in 2006 to expand its consulting practice to include Treasury services to the Charter School market. The Firm now serves as Treasurer for seven Charter Schools in Ohio. A listing of our engagements falling into this category is presented in Exhibit III.

To ensure the highest level of quality and efficiency, we have instituted a Firm-Wide quality control program to set minimum standards for our firm's internal procedures and operations. These standards address the technical aspects of the work we perform in conjunction with standards handed down by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. They also address areas such as employee hiring and promotions, continuing professional education, staff training, and staff supervision. The quality control program objective is to build quality and efficiency into every level and function of our Firm's operations.

PRIOR NOT-FOR-PROFIT EXPERIENCE

Hemphill & Associates has considerable experience in the performance of audit engagements involving not-for-profit agencies as well as federal, state and locally funded programs. These engagements include the performance of financial and compliance audits and specialized consulting services for several not-for-profit agencies throughout Ohio. The firm has also been selected to serve on the panel of approved auditors by the ADAMH Franklin County Alcohol, Drug Addiction and Mental Health Services Board. Included in our current not-for-profit client base are many agencies that receive a combination of federal, state and local funding.

Our relevant prior experience includes the performance of the financial and compliance audits of a number of agencies the fall under the Mental Health, Alcohol and Drug Abuse Service Boards throughout the State of Ohio.

In addition to these audit engagements, Hemphill & Associates’ professional personnel have also designed and delivered several fiscal management seminars on the implementation of OMB Circular A-133, Audits of Institutions of Higher Learning and Other Non-Profit Institutions (June 1996). These seminars were conducted for the benefit of parent organizations which contract to not-for-profit social services agencies for the delivery of services funded by federal pass-through funds. These engagements have enabled us to become familiar with the rules and regulations governing programs funded by these sources as well as individuals at the federal and state levels responsible for the administration of these programs.

Assumptions:

Revenue:
The revenue projection for the first year is based on ten schools with an FTE of anywhere between 100 - 200 per school.
Each additional year has five new schools, each with an FTE count of 200. The base per pupil amount is projected to be $5,745 for FY2014, and $5,800 for FY2015 and the remaining years in the forecast. The sponsor fee is calculated at three percent of each of the school's state funding.

Expenditures:
Salaries and benefits are projected to be $111,720 in Year 1 to cover the salaries and wages of the full time staff.
Benefits are projected to be 28% of salaries and wages.
The consultants are initially considered part-time.
Year 2-5 show substantial investment in R&D which will be a focus for WU.
Year 3 shows a substantial increase Salaries, Consultant Fees, R&D, and Software due to projected growth.

* - Year 1 shows deficit of $27,507. WU realizes the investment needed for the start of the Sponsor Program and is prepared for additional expenditures.

Independent Auditors’ Report

The Board of Trustees
Wilberforce University
Wilberforce, Ohio

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of Wilberforce University (the “University”) as of June 30, 2012, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the University’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements of the University as of June 30, 2011 were audited by other auditors whose report dated April 27, 2012, expressed an unqualified opinion.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University’s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the University as of June 30, 2012, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Description of the University

Wilberforce University (“the University”), a privately endowed African-American educational institution of arts and sciences, derives its income from student tuition and fees, investments, gifts and grants, and various related activities. The University was founded in 1856.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the University have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”).

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements of the University have been prepared to focus on the University as a whole and to present balances and transactions in accordance with the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Net assets, revenues, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Unrestricted net assets - Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations and are fully available at the discretion of management and the Board of Trustees.

Temporarily restricted net assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met either by actions of the University and/or the passage of time.

Permanently restricted net assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the University. Generally, the donors of these assets permit the University to use all, or part of, the return on related investments for general or specific purposes.

The expiration of a donor-imposed restriction on a contribution or on endowment income is recognized in the period in which the restriction expires, and at that time, the related resources are reclassified to unrestricted net assets. A restriction expires when the stipulated time has elapsed, when the stipulated purpose for which the resource was restricted has been fulfilled, or both.

Contributions

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenues in the period received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions of assets other than cash are recorded at their estimated fair value at the date of gift. Contributions to be received after one year are discounted at a rate commensurate with the risk involved at the date of the gift. Amortization of the discount is recorded as additional contribution revenue and used in accordance with donor-imposed restrictions, if any, on the contributions. Allowance is made for uncollectible contributions based upon management’s judgment and analysis of the creditworthiness of the donors, past collection experience, and other relevant factors.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include highly liquid instruments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase. The University maintains cash balances with various financial institutions, which at times may exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation limits. The University’s non-interest bearing cash balances were fully insured at June 30, 2012 due to a temporary federal program in effect from December 31, 2011 through December 31, 2012. Under the program, there is no limit to the amount of insurance for eligible accounts. Beginning in 2013, insurance coverage will revert to $250,000 per depositor at each financial institution, and the University’s non-interest bearing cash balances may again exceed federally insured limits.

Student Accounts Receivable and Other Receivables

Accounts receivable primarily consists of tuition and fee charges to students, on which interest is periodically charged. Notes receivable includes amounts due under the Perkins Loan Program. For such balances as well as unconditional promises to give, the University determines any necessary allowances for such receivables based on prior experience and management’s analysis of specific receivables and promises to give.

Investments

Investments are carried at fair value, determined primarily from quoted market prices where available. Unrealized gains and losses are included in the statements of activities.

Land, Buildings, and Equipment

Land, buildings, and equipment are recorded at cost at the date of acquisition or fair value at date of donation in the case of gifts. The University capitalizes acquisitions that exceed $5,000 and have an useful life expected to exceed one year. Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is calculated on the straight-line method over estimated useful lives of 30 years for buildings; 10 years for furniture; and 15 years for equipment. Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the lesser of the useful life or the minimum lease term.

Financial Instruments and Fair Values

The University’s carrying amount for its financial instruments, which include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and long-term debt approximate fair value based on the short-term nature of such balances, or in the case of long-term debt, based on the approximate borrowing rate as that would be available to the University at June 30, 2012.
Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

On an ongoing basis, the University reviews long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amounts may be overstated. The impairment loss would adjust the assets to fair value. As of June 30, 2012 and 2011, management believes no impairment existed.

Debt Issuance Costs

Debt issuance costs and fees on long-term debt are recorded as deferred charges (included in other assets in the statements of financial position) in the year paid and amortized over the life of the debt issuance on the effective interest method. Costs incurred through June 30, 2012 and 2011 totaled $636,727 and accumulated amortization was $53,484 and $27,037 at June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. Debt issuance costs are recorded with prepaid expenses and other assets on the statements of financial position.

Deferred Revenue

Tuition and fees are recognized on a pro rata basis over the term of the program. Deferred revenue represents tuition and fees that have been billed but not yet earned and relate to traditional students who registered for the Fall 2012 semester as well as the Credentials for Leadership in Management and Business (CLIMB) adult degree program. Funds from federal grants are treated as deferred revenue until the funds are expended for the grant purpose.

Advances From Government for Student Loans

Funds provided by the United States government under the Federal Perkins Loan program are loaned to qualified students and re-loaned after collections. These funds are ultimately refundable to the government and, therefore, are recorded as a liability in the accompanying statements of financial position.

Use of Estimates

Preparation of the financial statements, in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the audited financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from these assumptions, and those differences could be material.

Federal Income Tax

The University is recognized as an organization exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the “Code”) as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) whereby only unrelated business income, as defined by Section 512(a)(1) of the Code, is subject to federal income tax. With respect to any unrelated business income generated by the University, it records income taxes using the liability method under which deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the differences between the financial accounting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets or liabilities at the end of each period are determined using the currently enacted tax rate expected to apply to taxable income in the period that the deferred tax asset or liability is expected to be realized or settled. As of June 30, 2012, the University had no deferred tax assets or liabilities.
The University analyzed its tax positions for the year ended June 30, 2012 and determined that there were no uncertain tax positions that would have a material impact on the University’s financial statements.

Reclassifications

In certain instances, amounts previously reported in the 2011 financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the 2012 financial statement presentation. Such reclassifications had no effect on net assets.

New Accounting Pronouncements

On May 12, 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) No. 2011-04, Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurement and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) (“ASU 2011-04”). ASU 2011-04 amends ASC 820 and clarifies the application of existing fair value measurement and disclosure requirements related to the application of the highest and best use and valuation premise concepts for financial and nonfinancial instruments, and disclosures about fair value measurements. ASU 2011-04 requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements categorized within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy including the valuation processes used by the reporting entity, qualitative information about the unobservable inputs in the fair value measurement, the sensitivity of the fair value to changes in unobservable inputs, and the interrelationships between those unobservable inputs, if any. All the amendments to ASC 820 made by ASU 2011-04 are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011 for nonpublic companies. The disclosure requirements relating to the sensitivity of fair value to changes in unobservable inputs are not required for non-public entities, such as the University. Management is currently evaluating the impact the adoption of ASU 2011-04 will have on the University’s financial statements, including the enhanced disclosure requirements for Level 3 investments.

Subsequent Events

Management has performed an analysis of the activities and transactions subsequent to June 30, 2012 to determine the need for any adjustments to and/or disclosures within the audited financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2012. Management has performed their analysis of subsequent events through March 31, 2013, the date the financial statements were available to be issued. Management has determined no subsequent events have occurred requiring disclosure in these financial statements.

2. Fair Value Measurements of Assets

Accounting Standards Codification, Fair Value Measurements (“ASC 820”) defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the University’s principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date.
These principles establish a fair value hierarchy which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1: Quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the University has the ability to access as of the measurement date.

Level 2: Significant other observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3: Significant unobservable inputs that reflect the University’s own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability.

Observable inputs reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed from sources independent of the University; and unobservable inputs reflect the University’s own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances.

The following tables summarize the levels in the ASC 820 fair value hierarchy for the University:

Investments which are not publicly traded consist of investments in a limited partnership and are reflected at fair value. Depending on the underlying asset, the fair value is determined through national exchange prices for securities with a readily determinable value or valuations and estimates typically determined by the underlying asset manager. Certain investment values may differ from the values that would have been used had a ready market for these investments existed and the differences could be material. The financial statements of this investment is audited (annually at December 31) by independent auditors.

3. Contributions Receivable

Contributions receivable are promises to give from donors that are unconditional and are recorded at the present value of future cash flows. Contributions receivable as of June 30, 2012 and 2011 are $3,047 and $13,197, respectively, are due within one year, and are net of allowances for doubtful contributions of $8,508 as of June 30, 2012 and 2011.

4. Investments

The University’s various investments are exposed to a variety of uncertainties, including interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investments, it is possible that changes in the values of these investments could occur in the near term. Such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the financial statements of the University.

At June 30, 2012, $2,233,550 of cash and cash equivalents were in escrow accounts related to the HBCU Capital Financing Program debt (see Note 6). The certificates of deposit collateralize a letter of credit (see Note 13).

Total interest expense for the years then ended June 30, 2012 and 2011 amounted to approximately $787,794 and $1,027,000, respectively.
On July 1, 2007, the University entered into an agreement with Global Leverage Capital Management, LLC (“Global”) to refinance a Merrill Lynch loan and the 1969, 1970, and 2000 bond series and to finance the construction of a new 190 bed learning/living dormitory. The University issued $22,570,000 in “2007 Series Bonds”. The bond issuance was segregated into three categories of bonds as follows: $5,295,000 “Wilberforce University Secured Taxable Notes, Series 2007” due December 1, 2017; $6,855,000 “Wilberforce University Housing LLC Project” due June 1, 2037 and $10,420,000 “Wilberforce University Facilities Revenue Refunding Bond, Series 2007” due June 1, 2037. The University’s endowment served as security on the “Taxable Notes”, a pledge and lien on all Net Housing Revenues derived from the newly built housing facility served as security on the “Housing” bonds, and the first trust deed on the University’s campus served as security for the “Recurring” bonds.

Certain of the debt instruments and related letters of credit contain restrictive loan covenants regarding financial position, operating results, and compliance matters. On May 29, 2009, the University entered into a Forbearance Agreement with Global and U.S. Bank Trust National Association (“Custodian”) relative to the “2007 Series Bonds”. The University was not in compliance with applicable sections of the note and loan agreements associated with the “2007 Series Bonds” at June 30, 2009. Without waiving their rights associated with an existing default, Global and the Custodian were willing to temporarily forbear from exercising certain rights and remedies available to them. They agreed to allow the University time to remedy the existing defaults. This Forbearance Agreement was effective through December 31, 2009 provided all other conditions specified in the Agreement are met.

The University subsequently remedied the existing defaults and satisfied all other conditions specified in the agreement. Effective February of 2010, the Forbearance Agreement was no longer in effect.

The University had a line of credit of $1,000,000 which expired on June 5, 2009. The line had been extended through May 31, 2012. The University line of credit was paid off and closed as part of the debt restructuring discussed below.

In September 2010, Wilberforce University was accepted into the Historically Black College and University (“HBCU”) Capital Finance Program. The purpose of this program is to provide low-cost capital to finance improvements to the infrastructure of the nation’s HBCU’s. Specifically, the program provides HBCU’s with access to capital financing or refinancing and provides a guarantee against default of the entire balance. Wilberforce University used the capital funds to retire all of the remaining balance of the “2007 Series Bonds,” totaling $22,570,000 and all of its additional outstanding debt, which included a line of credit and capital leases. The University’s net housing revenues along with the housing facilities will serve as security for the “2010 Series” bonds as will the University’s endowment through a control agreement. The new debt structure has certain loan covenants primarily associated with the submission of reports by certain time periods.

In addition, the program agreement contains provisions for the maintenance of certain escrow reserve accounts by the University. As discussed in Note 4, these accounts totaled $2,233,550 at June 30, 2012.
Total future minimum payments at June 30, 2012 are:

At June 30, 2012, the University was not in compliance with certain covenants associated with its bonds payable agreement. The University did not provide the lender with audited financial statements within 120 days of its year end as specified in the debt covenant. The University also failed to meet other financial reporting requirements. Subsequent to June 30, 2012, the University obtained an appropriate written letter waiving the covenants related to which they were not in compliance.

7. Retirement Plans

Retirement benefits are provided for the administrative and academic staff through Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association (“TIAA”), a national organization used to fund pension benefits for educational institutions. Under this arrangement, the University and plan participants make annual contributions to TIAA to purchase individual annuities equivalent to retirement benefits earned. No contributions were made by the University in 2012 and 2011. In addition, selected University personnel may participate in a supplemental retirement plan on a voluntary basis. The University incurs no expense with the supplemental plan.

8. Temporarily and Permanent Restricted Net Assets

The University's temporarily restricted net assets of $4,147,380 and $4,653,989 at June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively, are restricted primarily to scholarships.

The University’s permanently restricted net assets of $8,124,279 and $8,084,573 at June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively, are restricted primarily to endowed scholarships.

During the years ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, $713,896 and $631,035, respectively, was released from restrictions and primarily utilized for grants and scholarships.

9. Leases

The University leases certain vehicles and equipment under operating leases which expire at various dates through August 2012.
Future minimum lease payments under the operating leases at June 30, 2012, are as follows:

Rent expense for the years ended June 30, 2012 and 2011 was $50,957 and $43,032, respectively.

10. Endowments and Net Asset Classification of Funds Subject to UPMIFA

The University’s endowment consists of approximately 100 individual funds established for a variety of purposes (primarily scholarships) based on donor-imposed restrictions in the relative gift instrument. Net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the donor-imposed restrictions.

The Board of Trustees of the University has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act of 2007 (the “Act”) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulation to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the University classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund.

The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the University in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by the Act. In accordance with the Act, the University considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowments funds:

1. The duration and preservation of the fund
2. The purposes of the University and the donor-restricted endowment fund;
3. General economic conditions;
4. The possible effect of inflation and deflation;
5. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments;
6. Other resources of the University; and
7. The investment policies of the University

Management and investment decisions about individual assets are made not in isolation but rather in the context of the University’s portfolio of investments as a whole and as part of an investment strategy that has risk and return objectives reasonably suited to the fund and to the institution. The University will diversify investments unless it reasonably determines that, because of special circumstances, the purposes of the fund are better served without diversification.
The appropriation for expenditure in any year is based upon specific University needs and is intended to be for an amount not greater than five percent of the fair market value of an endowment fund, calculated on the basis of market values averaged over a period of not less than three years immediately preceding the year in which the appropriation for expenditure is being made.

From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that the donor of UPMIFA requires the University to retain as a fund of perpetual duration. Deficiencies of this nature that are in excess of related temporarily restricted amounts are reported in unrestricted new assets. Such amounts totaled $168,107 and $147,399 for the years ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. These deficiencies resulted from unfavorable market fluctuations.

Endowment net assets consist of the following at June 30, 2012 and 2011:

11. Commitments and Contingencies

The University receives significant financial assistance from governmental agencies in the form of grants. The disbursement of funds received under such programs generally requires compliance with terms and conditions specified in grant agreements and are subject to audit by grantor agencies. The grant agreements provide for possible auditing of expenditures by grantor agencies and possible disallowance of certain expenditures. See Note 13 for additional discussion of the results of a Department of Education audit.

The University is periodically involved in various legal proceedings, administrative actions and claims arising in the normal course of business. In the opinion of management, the ultimate disposition of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the University’s financial position.

12. Notes Receivable

The University makes uncollateralized loans to students based on financial need. Student loans are generally funded through Federal government loan programs. At June 30, 2012 and 2011, student loans represented 4.4% and 4.9% of total assets, respectively.

Notes receivable consisted of the following:

<thead>
<tr>

<th>2012</th>

Based on the University’s policy, the past due balances as of June 30, 2012 and 2011 were $1,156,318 and $1,058,533, respectively. Allowances for doubtful accounts over these past due balances are established based on prior collection experience and current economic factors which, in management’s judgment, could influence the ability of loan recipients to repay the amounts per loan terms.

The University participates in the Federal Perkins Loan Program which is a revolving loan program. The availability of funds for loans under the program is dependent on reimbursements to the pool from repayments on outstanding loans. Funds advanced by the Federal government of $1,515,129 at June 30, 2012 and 2011, are ultimately refundable to the government and are classified as liabilities in the statements of financial position. Outstanding loans cancelled under the program result in a reduction of the funds available for loans and a decrease in the liability to the government.

13. U.S. Department of Education

Office of Inspector General Audit

Wilberforce University was audited by the Office of Inspector General, U.S. Department of Education (“DOE”), for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2005 and 2006. The objectives of the audit were to determine whether the University complied with selected provisions of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended (“HEA”), and regulations governing (1) the return of Title IV, HEA program funds, (2) student eligibility, (3) disbursements, and (4) award calculations.

On March 21, 2008, an audit report was issued by the Office of Inspector General, Department of Education. The Office of Inspector General determined that the audit revealed significant instances of noncompliance by the University primarily involving the Federal Work Study program.

The Department of Education’s final determination resulted in a total liability of $554,463. The liability balance is $178,210 and $454,484 at June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. These amounts are included in accounts payable within the accompanying statements of financial position.

Letter of Credit

In August 2009, the University was notified by the DOE of its failure to meet the standards of financial responsibility because it had not maintained a minimum composite ratio score of 1.5 as required. The Department of Education required the University to post a $1,046,264 letter of credit. A $500,000 letter of credit was submitted to the DOE in April 2010 and is collateralized by a certificate of deposit. The remaining $546,264 letter of credit was submitted to the DOE in August 2010.
