DOMAIN / ACADEMIC CONTENT STANDARD		American History
STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: HISTORICAL THINKING AND SKILLS – Students apply skills by utilizing a variety of resources to construct theses and support or refute contentions made by others. Alternative explanations of historical events are analyzed and questions of historical inevitability are explored.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL 1. The use of primary and secondary sources of information includes an examination of the credibility of each source.

DOMAIN / ACADEMIC CONTENT STANDARD		World Geography
STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIETY – Humans adapt to and modify the environment and shape the landscape through their interaction with the land. This has both positive and negative effects on the environment.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	3.	Human modifications of the physical environment in one place often lead to changes in other places (e.g., construction of a dam provides downstream flood control, construction of a city by-pass reduces commercial activity in the city center, implementation of dry farming techniques in a region leads to new transportation links and hubs). US History Unit 9: Lesson 5 - Focus on the Environment
-------------------	----	---

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	4.	Human societies use a variety of strategies to adapt to the opportunities and constraints presented by the physical environment (e.g., farming in flood plains and terraced farming, building hydroelectric plants by waterfalls and constructing hydroelectric dams, using solar panels as heat source and using extra insulation to retain heat). US History Unit 1: Lesson 1 - Exploration and Settlement
-------------------	----	---

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	5.	Physical processes influence the formation and distribution of renewable, nonrenewable, and flow resources (e.g., tectonic activity plays a role in the formation and location of fossil fuels, erosion plays a role in the formation of sedimentary rocks, rainfall patterns affect regional drainage patterns). No Correlations

STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: MOVEMENT – People interact with other people, places, and things every day of their lives. They travel from one place to another; they communicate with each other; and they rely upon products, information, and ideas that come from beyond their immediate environment .
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	8.	Physical, cultural, economic, and political factors contribute to human migrations (e.g., drought, religious conflicts, job opportunities, immigration laws). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	9.	Human migrations impact physical and human systems (e.g., stress on food supplies in refugee camps, removal of natural obstacles to movement, harvest productivity and migrant labor, calls for an official language in countries with high immigration, reduction in city tax revenues due to urban emigration). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	10.	Activities and patterns of trade and communication create interdependence among countries in different regions (e.g., seed corn grown in Iowa and planted in South America, high-definition televisions manufactured in Japan and viewed in the United States, news outlets from many countries available around the world via the Internet, instant access to data affects stock markets in different countries). STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: HUMAN SETTLEMENT – People live in settlements which vary in size, composition, location, arrangement, and function. These settlements are the focus of most aspects of human life including economic activities, transportation systems, governance, communications and culture. Human settlements differ between regions, places and over time.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	15.	Patterns of settlement change over time in terms of functions, sizes, and spatial patterns (e.g., a canal town becomes an industrial city, a rural area becomes a transportation hub, cities merge into a megalopolis). US History Unit 1: Lesson 1 - Exploration and Settlement
-------------------	-----	--

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	16.	Urbanization provides opportunities and challenges for physical and human systems in cities and their surrounding regions (e.g., development of suburbs, loss of habitat, central markets, squatter settlements on city outskirts, regional specialization in services or products, creation of ethnic enclaves). No Correlations

STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: ECONOMIC DECISION MAKING AND SKILLS – Economic decision making relies on the analysis of data. Economists use data to explain trends and decide among economic alternatives. Individuals use data to determine the condition of their finances and to make savings and investment decisions.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL 1. Economists analyze multiple sources of data to predict trends, make inferences and arrive at conclusions.

No Correlations

PROFICIENCY LEVEL 2. Reading financial reports (bank statements, stock market reports, mutual fund statements) enables individuals to make and analyze decisions about personal finances.

STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: FUNDAMENTALS OF ECONOMICS – Productive resources are limited and allocated in a variety of different ways. An efficient way to allocate productive resources is through markets.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL 3. People cannot have all the goods and services they want and, as a result, must choose some things and give up others.

No Correlations

PROFICIENCY LEVEL 4. Different economic systems (traditional, market, command, and mixed) utilize different methods to allocate limited resources.

No Correlations

PROFICIENCY LEVEL 5. Markets exist when consumers and producers interact. When supply or demand changes, market prices adjust. Those adjustments send signals and provide incentives to consumers and producers to change their own decisions.

No Correlations

PROFICIENCY LEVEL 6. Competition among sellers lowers costs and prices, and encourages producers to produce more of what consumers are willing and able to buy. Competition among buyers increases prices and allocates goods and services to those people who are willing and able to pay the most for them.

DOMAIN / ACADEMIC CONTENT STANDARD		World Geography
STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: MOVEMENT – People interact with other people, places, and things every day of their lives. They travel from one place to another; they communicate with each other; and they rely upon products, information, and ideas that come from beyond their immediate environment .
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	8.	Physical, cultural, economic, and political factors contribute to human migrations (e.g., drought, religious conflicts, job opportunities, immigration laws). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	9.	Human migrations impact physical and human systems (e.g., stress on food supplies in refugee camps, removal of natural obstacles to movement, harvest productivity and migrant labor, calls for an official language in countries with high immigration, reduction in city tax revenues due to urban emigration). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	10.	Activities and patterns of trade and communication create interdependence among countries in different regions (e.g., seed corn grown in Iowa and planted in South America, high-definition televisions manufactured in Japan and viewed in the United States, news outlets from many countries available around the world via the Internet, instant access to data affects stock markets in different countries). US History Unit 7: Lesson 2 - The Founding of the United Nations Unit 10: Lesson 7 - Globalism vs. Nationalism

STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: REGION – A region is an area on the earth's surface that is defined by certain unifying characteristics which give it a measure of homogeneity and distinguish it from surrounding areas. The unifying characteristics may be physical or cultural. Regions change over time.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	11.	Criteria are used to organize regions and as the criteria change, the identified regions change (e.g., types of economic activities, ethnic groups, natural vegetation). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	12.	The characteristics of regions change over time and there are consequences related to those changes (e.g., industrial belt to rust belt, pristine locations to tourist attractions, colony to independent state). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	13.	There are interconnections within and among physical and human regions (e.g., river systems, transportation linkages, common currency). No Correlations

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	14.	Regions are used as a basis to analyze global geographic issues (e.g., desertification, political disputes, economic unions). US History Unit 10: Lesson 7 - Globalism vs. Nationalism Unit 10: Quiz 1 World History Unit 10: Lesson 3 - Developments in Europe to the Present Unit 10: Quiz 1

STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: HUMAN SETTLEMENT – People live in settlements which vary in size, composition, location, arrangement, and function. These settlements are the focus of most aspects of human life including economic activities, transportation systems, governance, communications and culture. Human settlements differ between regions, places and over time.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	15.	Patterns of settlement change over time in terms of functions, sizes, and spatial patterns (e.g., a canal town becomes an industrial city, a rural area becomes a transportation hub, cities merge into a megalopolis). US History Unit 1: Lesson 1 - Exploration and Settlement
-------------------	-----	--

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	16.	Urbanization provides opportunities and challenges for physical and human systems in cities and their surrounding regions (e.g., development of suburbs, loss of habitat, central markets, squatter settlements on city outskirts, regional specialization in services or products, creation of ethnic enclaves). No Correlations

DOMAIN / ACADEMIC CONTENT STANDARD		World Geography
STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: GLOBALIZATION – The modern world is said to be “shrinking” or “flattening” through the processes of globalization. The scale and speed of global interactions continue to increase in fields such as technology, markets, information sharing and telecommunication. Globalization has impacted human-environmental interactions, has affected the movement of people, products and ideas, and has implications for what constitutes a region and connections among existing regions.
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	17.	Globalization has shaped new cultural, economic, and political ideas and entities (e.g., universal human rights, European Union, terrorist networks). World History Unit 9: Activity: Beginning of the Cold War - Multimedia Presentation Unit 9: Lesson 4 - Beginning of the Cold War Unit 9: Quiz 2 Unit 10: Lesson 6 - Developments in the Middle East Unit 10: Twentieth Century Activity US History Unit 7: Lesson 2 - The Founding of the United Nations Unit 10: Lesson 4 - William Clinton Unit 10: Lesson 7 - Globalism vs. Nationalism
-------------------	-----	--

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	18.	Globalization has cultural, economic, physical and political consequences (e.g., Internet access increases availability of information, outsourcing leads to regional unemployment, development of infrastructure impacts local ecosystems and economies, computer hacking into sensitive data bases leads to insecurity). US History Unit 10: Lesson 7 - Globalism vs. Nationalism

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	19.	Global trade and communication systems reduce the effect of time on the distribution of goods, services, and information (e.g., reliance on local foods versus global trade in perishable foods, online brokering versus personal brokers, Internet access versus library access). STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: FROM ISOLATION TO WORLD WAR (1930-1945) – The isolationist approach to foreign policy meant U.S. leadership in world affairs diminished after World War I. Overseas, certain nations saw the growth of tyrannical governments which reasserted their power through aggression and created conditions leading to the Second World War. After Pearl Harbor, the United States entered World War II, which changed the country's focus from isolationism to international involvement.

STANDARD / BENCHMARK		TOPIC: MOVEMENT – People interact with other people, places, and things every day of their lives. They travel from one place to another; they communicate with each other; and they rely upon products, information, and ideas that come from beyond their immediate environment .
BENCHMARK / GRADE LEVEL INDICATOR		Content Statements:

PROFICIENCY LEVEL	8.	Physical, cultural, economic, and political factors contribute to human migrations (e.g., drought, religious conflicts, job opportunities, immigration laws). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	9.	Human migrations impact physical and human systems (e.g., stress on food supplies in refugee camps, removal of natural obstacles to movement, harvest productivity and migrant labor, calls for an official language in countries with high immigration, reduction in city tax revenues due to urban emigration). No Correlations
PROFICIENCY LEVEL	10.	Activities and patterns of trade and communication create interdependence among countries in different regions (e.g., seed corn grown in Iowa and planted in South America, high-definition televisions manufactured in Japan and viewed in the United States, news outlets from many countries available around the world via the Internet, instant access to data affects stock markets in different countries). 	TOPIC: HUMAN SETTLEMENT – People live in settlements which vary in size, composition, location, arrangement, and function. These settlements are the focus of most aspects of human life including economic activities, transportation systems, governance, communications and culture. Human settlements differ between regions, places and over time.	50%	50	2	1	1
	Content Statements:	50%	50	2	1	1
15.	Patterns of settlement change over time in terms of functions, sizes, and spatial patterns (e.g., a canal town becomes an industrial city, a rural area becomes a transportation hub, cities merge into a megalopolis).	100%	0	1	1	1
16.	Urbanization provides opportunities and challenges for physical and human systems in cities and their surrounding regions (e.g., development of suburbs, loss of habitat, central markets, squatter settlements on city outskirts, regional specialization in services or products, creation of ethnic enclaves).	0%	100%	1	0	0
	TOPIC: GLOBALIZATION – The modern world is said to be “shrinking” or “flattening” through the processes of globalization. The scale and speed of global interactions continue to increase in fields such as technology, markets, information sharing and telecommunication. Globalization has impacted human-environmental interactions, has affected the movement of people, products and ideas, and has implications for what constitutes a region and connections among existing regions.	100%	0	3	3	14
	Content Statements:	100%	0	3	3	14
17.	Globalization has shaped new cultural, economic, and political ideas and entities (e.g., universal human rights, European Union, terrorist networks).	100%	0	1	1	10

18.	Globalization has cultural, economic, physical and political consequences (e.g., Internet access increases availability of information, outsourcing leads to regional unemployment, development of infrastructure impacts local ecosystems and economies, computer hacking into sensitive data bases leads to insecurity).	100%	0	1	1	3
19.	Global trade and communication systems reduce the effect of time on the distribution of goods, services, and information (e.g., reliance on local foods versus global trade in perishable foods, online brokering versus personal brokers, Internet access versus library access).	100%	0	1	1	1

PERFOMANCE OF OPERATOR

Academic Record of Operator's Affiliated Schools

Question 1: If the proposed school will be contracting with an operator, provide a complete and comprehensive list of all schools managed by the operator in the state of Ohio since the operator's first year of operation. For each community/public charter school managed by the operator, provide the following:

- name and unique school identifier of each school (in Ohio, the IRN is the unique school identifier)
- type of school (site-based or online)
- first and most recent calendar years for which the operator managed the daily activities of the school
- total years operator managed school

Answer to Question 1:

Name: Career Prep Virtual High School

IRN: 021509

Online DOPR school

Opened 2024

Currently in first year of operation

Question 2: If the operator managed the operations of schools outside of Ohio, provide a complete and comprehensive list year by year of all schools managed by the operator outside the state of Ohio. For each school managed by the operator outside of Ohio, identify the following information:

- School's unique school identifier
- School's name
- Type of school
- State of location of school
- List each school year with affiliation
- List overall state report card rating for that year
- URL that links to an explanation of the state's accountability system to allow the Department to compare the performance of those schools to Ohio's ratings system

Please see the comprehensive list of schools operated by Responsive Ed.

In this table you will find the longitudinal State Accountability results for all schools operated by our organization, addressing Page 9 Question 2. Data is presented with the most current data first. Schools are separated into 4 groups. Premier High Schools (Texas); Texas College Preparatory Academies (Texas); Founders Classical Academies (Arkansas); Premier High Schools (Arkansas)

Please see the notes at the conclusion of each table for additional information and URLs for all accountability system descriptions by year.

Note 1: All Texas Premier High Schools are designated as Dropout Recovery Schools and are evaluated under Alternative Education Accountability. These provisions are found within the TEA Accountability Manual

Note 2: 2024 ratings were not officially released by the Texas Education Agency due to pending judicial rulings. Underlying data, released internally to districts, was used to calculate Scale Scores and Ratings. After voluntarily submitting our findings to TEA's Performance Reporting Division we are able to verify that the Scale Scores and Ratings presented here are correct.

Note 3: Ratings from 2023 were not officially released by the Texas Education Agency due to pending judicial rulings. The underlying data was released internally to districts. Scale Scores and Ratings shown here are based on internal calculations using that data.

Note 4: Ratings from 2012 were not issued due to an update to the Texas state accountability system.

Note 6: Beginning in 2018 legislation for the Arkansas Department of Education identifies that "An open-enrollment charter school whose mission and enrollment are primarily focused on students who have dropped out of high school or are identified as at risk of dropping out of school;" shall be exempt from the designation of a school rating. Because of this rule the Premier High Schools in the state of Arkansas have no school rating under the public school accountability system. All PHS sites operate as dropout recovery programs, therefore they do not have statewide school performance ratings.

Note 6: Beginning in 2018 legislation for the Arkansas Department of Education identifies that "An open-enrollment charter school whose mission and enrollment are primarily focused on students who have dropped out of high school or are identified as at risk of dropping out of school;" shall be exempt from the designation of a school rating. Because of this rule the Premier High Schools in the state of Arkansas have no school rating under the public school accountability system. All PHS sites operate as dropout recovery programs, therefore they do not have statewide school performance ratings. Below is the URL to the Arkansas State Code related to this provision. SUBJECT:	2024 Underlying Accountability Subset Data Available in TEAL
CATEGORY:	Performance Reporting
NEXT STEPS:	Share with appropriate staff

The Texas A–F accountability system is a tool to help school systems continuously improve student performance to achieve the goals of eliminating achievement gaps based on race, ethnicity and socioeconomic status and ensuring Texas is a national leader in preparing students for success after graduation. The purpose of this communication is to announce that underlying 2024 accountability data was released to school systems today to assist school leaders with internal evaluation of academic performance.

Due to a pending lawsuit, the issuance of 2024 A-F ratings and Comprehensive, Targeted and Additional Targeted Support school improvement designations are pending and subject to change based on judicial rulings. Authorized school system users in the TEA Login (TEAL) Accountability application have access to data, reports and downloads that do not include A-F ratings or scale scores, nor federal school improvement designations.

- The 2024 Accountability Reports and Data Tables and the 2024 Accountability Data Downloads are now available in TEAL without ratings or scale scores. This includes a data download of the raw component scores for 2023 and 2024.
- The 2024 STAAR, Growth, AEA Retest Growth and EL Student Listings are also available in TEAL. 2024 CCMR Student Listings were posted on August 2, 2024.
- Superintendents who do not have access to TEAL Accountability must request access through the My Application Accounts link under Self Service in TEAL.
- For school systems who have calculated scale scores internally and would like to verify their calculations with the agency, for 2024 or also for 2023 to help internally evaluate progress, please email performance.reporting@tea.texas.gov.

For additional information, visit the TEA's official Performance Reporting webpage, 2024 Accountability System page and the 2024 Accountability Manual page. The data provided to school systems today is based on the methodology in the final rule adopting the 2024 Accountability Manual, posted on May 9, 2024.

For questions or assistance regarding the information in this TAA, please call the Performance Reporting Division at 512-463-9704 or email performance.reporting@tea.texas.gov.

DATE:	September 12, 2023
SUBJECT:	Delay in 2023 A–F Academic Accountability Ratings
CATEGORY:	Notice
NEXT STEPS:	Share with appropriate staff

The purpose of this communication is to inform local educational agencies (LEAs) about a delay in the issuance of the final rule for the accountability manual and a delay in the issuance of 2023 A–F Accountability Ratings.

As communicated previously, issuance of A–F ratings this year was already planned to be delayed from the typical mid-August release date due to the standards-setting process required with the redesign of STAAR. Based on timelines published previously, ratings were to be issued publicly on September 28, 2023.

The A–F accountability system itself is also being refreshed this year, with some changes to cut points and some changes to indicator methodology. For more than a year, the Texas Education Agency (TEA or agency) has publicly shared timelines and preliminary frameworks related to the A–F refresh.

As part of the refresh, in January 2023, TEA published proposed cut points and updates to the previously published methodology changes, noting some areas of change and some areas which remain unchanged. Those details included information about changing methods and cut scores to be used in calculating student growth on STAAR. Feedback obtained to that point included recommendations to appropriately account for the impact of COVID-19 in evaluating new baseline data, so the agency proposed setting growth cut scores using a baseline of the average level of student growth for the 2018–19 and 2021–22 school years.

However, since that time, statewide growth data for the 2022–23 school year has become available. Analysis of that growth data shows that the 2021–22 growth was more anomalous than expected, so setting baselines that partially incorporate data from the 2021–22 school year may not adequately take into account the impact of COVID-19.

As a result, the agency will be delaying the issuance of the final rule for the accountability manual and delaying the issuance of ratings to conduct further analyses of the growth data to inform cut scores in Domain 2a-Academic Growth, and Domain 3-Closing the Gaps.

Besides changes to growth cut scores, the agency will be incorporating a few additional changes in its final rule based on other feedback gathered during the rulemaking comment period:

- Alternative Education Accountability (AEA) STAAR Methodology: Within Domain 1, update the STAAR methodology for AEA campuses to better reflect the intention of AEA Taskforce recommendations.

- Minimum Indicators for Student Achievement Domain Score: STAAR Component Only: Within Domain 3, reduce minimum number of indicators from four to three to allow campuses with only one lowest performing racial/ethnic group to be evaluated.
- English Language Proficiency: Within Domain 3, allow progress in TELPAS Writing to count towards the current calculation.
- Identification of Schools for Improvement: Additional Targeted Support (ATS) campuses will be identified based on student groups' performance relative to the cut point established for Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI) campus identification (bottom 5% of Title I schools' Closing the Gaps Scale Scores, by school type).

The agency is not considering other changes for the final rule from what was published in the proposed rule.

TEA anticipates the additional growth analysis will delay the issuance of final rules and ratings by approximately one month, and the agency will provide specific dates for 2023 ratings release at least two weeks ahead of the release of public ratings.

School Improvement

Once specific dates for 2023 ratings are available, TEA's School Improvement Division will also be providing revised timelines for targeted improvement plan submissions and grant funding for eligible identified campuses.

Results Driven Accountability

The 2023 Accountability Manual will also incorporate a chapter on Results Driven Accountability (RDA), which has historically been a standalone manual. The delay in the issuance of the final rule will also cause delays in RDA determinations and the required actions stemming from the determinations.

Background on the Periodic Update of A-F Indicators and Cut Points

Prior to 2017, cut points and indicators in the accountability system were updated annually, preventing school systems from easily comparing year-over-year performance in reaching goals for students across the state. Since the passage of House Bill (HB) 22 in 2017, state law requires cut points and indicators in the accountability system to be updated periodically, not necessarily annually, to achieve the statutory goals of reducing achievement gaps and ensuring Texas is a national leader in preparing students for postsecondary success. Given this policy change, cut points and indicators in the A-F system have remained largely unchanged since 2017.

This approach of holding cut points and indicators constant for the last five years was maintained even though the agency received consistent feedback about needed changes in the system design – especially with regard to district rating methodology. In addition, the underlying performance of schools across the state would have warranted some annual cut point increases – especially with regard to college, career, and military readiness. Rather than making those changes in prior years, the system remained static, and instead changes are being made only once over a five-year period.

Given the statutory shift to periodic, rather than annual, updates, the last five years have provided educators an effective way to discern year-over-year continuous improvement. But during the refresh year, with a variety of changes being made to the A-F system ratings methodology, there is a greater need to communicate about the changes, so the agency has provided communications resources this year designed to help inform educators and the public that year-over-year comparisons are more difficult this year. To help provide a year-over-year comparison, “what if” re-evaluations will also be publicly released using last year’s data and this year’s cut points and methodology.

For similar reasons stemming from the HB 22 (85R) statutory changes, indicators and cut points established in the refresh will remain largely unchanged for approximately the next five years, so the refresh establishes a new five-year baseline. Also of note, under more recent statutory changes, A-F ratings are required to be issued statewide each year; the commissioner of education is no longer permitted to consider the use of “Not Rated” on a statewide basis, even as part of a transition in the accountability system.

For more information about the A-F Refresh, please visit the 2023 Accountability Development Materials webpage. Please direct questions to the Performance Reporting Division at (512) 463-9704 or performance.reporting@tea.texas.gov.

The applicant, sponsor, and operator must work collaboratively to provide a narrative that explains how the school will meet requirements included in the Standards for Quality Online Programs.

How Online Learning at iSVA Meets Quality Standards for Online Programs

A. Mission-Driven Excellence

At iSVA, the mission is to "Provide hope for students by helping them take control of their future success through online, mastery-based programs that promote a free society and cultivate moral and academic excellence, preparing them for college and post-secondary citizenship."

This mission serves as the foundation of all online learning initiatives. iSVA's programs prioritize holistic student development, integrating academic rigor with values-based education to prepare students for meaningful contributions to society.

B. Leadership and Governance

iSVA's leadership team ensures alignment with its mission by implementing policies and practices that promote student success and uphold program integrity. Clear governance structures are in place to support strategic planning, curriculum development, and faculty training for the online learning environment.

C. Equity and Access

iSVA is committed to creating equitable opportunities for all students. The online platform is designed to be accessible, with adaptive technologies to support learners with disabilities and multilingual resources for diverse populations. Scholarships and financial aid are available to eliminate barriers to education.

D. Curriculum and Course Design

The iSVA curriculum is standards-based, incorporating both state and national benchmarks for quality. Courses are designed with backward planning, ensuring alignment between learning objectives, instructional materials, and assessments. The focus on interactive, multimedia-rich content keeps students engaged and fosters critical thinking.

E. Teaching and Learning Practices

iSVA employs a team of highly trained educators who specialize in online instruction. Faculty members use research-based strategies to create dynamic virtual classrooms that emphasize student-centered learning. Personalized learning plans ensure that each student receives the support and challenges they need to thrive.

F. Student Engagement and Success

Engagement is a core priority at iSVA. Students are encouraged to actively participate in discussions, collaborative projects, and interactive modules. Regular feedback loops, one-on-one mentoring, and access to academic support services ensure that every student is equipped to succeed.

G. Professional Development for Staff

iSVA invests heavily in continuous professional development. Educators participate in workshops, certifications, and peer learning communities focused on best practices in online teaching and learning. This commitment ensures that staff remain at the forefront of educational innovation.

H. Data-Driven Decision Making

iSVA uses data analytics to monitor program effectiveness and student outcomes. Metrics such as course completion rates, student satisfaction surveys, and assessment results inform continuous improvement efforts, ensuring that the program evolves to meet the needs of its learners.

I. Financial and Operational Sustainability

iSVA maintains financial transparency and operational efficiency to ensure program sustainability. Investments in scalable technologies and partnerships with educational organizations support long-term growth and accessibility.

J. Technology Infrastructure and Support

The technology ecosystem at iSVA is robust, ensuring a seamless online learning experience. A dedicated IT team provides 24/7 support, and the learning management system is designed to be user-friendly, secure, and adaptable to various devices.

K. Accreditation and Accountability

iSVA aligns with accreditation standards to validate the quality of its programs. Regular reviews and external audits ensure compliance with educational regulations and reinforce accountability to students and stakeholders.

L. Commitment to Continuous Improvement

Reflecting its mission, iSVA is committed to ongoing improvement. Feedback from students, parents, and staff is actively sought and incorporated into program updates, ensuring that online learning remains relevant, effective, and aligned with evolving educational needs.

M. Community Building and Collaboration

iSVA fosters a vibrant online community where students, families, and educators collaborate. Virtual events, discussion forums, and extracurricular activities provide opportunities for connection and growth, creating a sense of belonging in a virtual environment.

Attachment 9C – Operator Assessment

ResponsiveEd has thoroughly assessed the performance of its affiliated internet and computer-based schools using the NSQ Standards for Quality Online Programs which demonstrates a commitment to continuous improvement and accountability. The evaluation process incorporates feedback from stakeholders, including students, parents, and staff, alongside achievement data and course design assessments.

The results indicate that the schools are consistently meeting or exceeding operating standards across critical areas. Notably:

- Governance (96%): Governance members are knowledgeable about K-12 online learning, ensuring the schools are well-resourced and policies are aligned with mission goals and state regulations.
- Financial and Material Resources (100%): Resources are allocated efficiently, ensuring sustainability and compliance with local, state, and federal regulations, which supports long-term viability.
- Equity and Access (100%): All students are ensured equitable access to the program, with accommodations provided in compliance with policies and laws, ensuring personalized support for diverse learning needs.
- Curriculum and Course Design (94%): Courses align with learning standards, incorporating research-based design principles like Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and providing diverse learning opportunities, including both synchronous and asynchronous learning.
- Instruction (92%): Instruction is guided by evidence-based practices, and teachers continuously assess and adjust their pedagogy using learning analytics to meet students' needs.

However, Program Evaluation fell below the desired 90% standard (88%). This is because there has previously been no evaluation completed by an external source. However, early in 2024, ResponsiveEd began the process of pursuing accreditation of its online schools with Cognia, which will involve regular external evaluations, aiming to enhance program quality and ensure continuous improvement.

At this time, the Cognia evaluation has placed ResponsiveEd at candidacy status, having satisfactorily completed the preliminary review of processes, similar to the internal evaluation against the NSQ Standards for Quality Online Programs.

Operator Self-Evaluation

Please provide a narrative that explains how the school will meet requirements included in the Standards for Quality Online Programs.

As part of its ongoing commitment to high quality learning experiences for all students, ResponsiveEd conducts regular evaluations of its online programs. These evaluations take into account survey data from stakeholders, such as parents, students, and instructional staff, as well as achievement data and course design evaluations.

The curriculum team includes individuals who have completed training with Quality Matters to understand how to apply the rubrics for Quality Online Teaching and Quality Online Courses, and the Director of Virtual Learning is a member of the national team currently working on revising the Standards for Quality Online Programs, so is very familiar with the standards as well as the importance of meeting them.

Cognia is an internationally recognized accreditation reviewer, and our partnership with them will provide regular external audits of our performance, which will raise our score on Standard N.
