Introduction to Ohio's New Learning Standards - Extended: Social Studies

OVERVIEW

In February 2018, the state of Ohio adopted updated Ohio Learning Standards (OLS) for social studies and science. Consequently, Ohio revised the Ohio Learning Standards-Extended (OLS-E) to be aligned with the OLS. The Ohio Department of Education collaborated with teams of educators and experts from around the state to do the work. These committees met multiple times to draft the new extensions. The Department then posted the drafts for public feedback and received hundreds of comments. After the public comment period, the committees considered the comments and implemented suggestions into the final version.

The OLS-E are specific statements of knowledge and skills linked to the expectations in the OLS. The purpose of the extensions is to build a bridge that provides grade level access for students with the most significant cognitive disabilities to the content of the OLS.

The Department developed the OLS-E specifically for students who qualify for and take the Alternate Assessment for Students with Significant Cognitive Disabilities (AASCD). These extensions do not replace the OLS for social studies, they are aligned to them. Teachers may use the standards and extensions as a skill or knowledge progression when designing instruction and assessments. Using a standards progression provides flexible access from varied entry points and allows learners with the most significant cognitive disabilities to grow knowledge and skill across a modified curriculum that is linked to the grade-level standards. Educators can then use the link to grade-level targets or outcomes as comparison data in present levels of performance on an IEP. Because instruction and assessment should always consider the full range of extended standards and the links to the grade-level targets and outcomes, the OLS-E development committee designed this document so that the reader can reference the OLS and the extensions on the same page to easily see the progression.

While educators should use the extended standards to provide content that is directly aligned to the OLS for social studies, they must also meet each child's individual education needs by incorporating other skills as necessary. Teachers should consider incorporating instruction with individual accommodations or supports students need to access the curriculum as well as non-academic skills needed for student success such as communication, self-determination, fine/gross motor, and social/emotional skills. Daily living and life skills are often represented within the standards as reading, speaking, listening, writing, and economics skills and should be taught and integrated with the extensions. Educational plans should also include any other additional skills necessary for each child's individual education needs and transition planning goals.

Educators can use the OLS-E to differentiate instruction for a wide range of students by using the extensions as entry points to the OLS, but they must do so with caution. Students who do not take Ohio's AASCD will take the general assessments aligned to the general standards. These extensions can provide entry points into the OLS. However, schools must remember that students who do not participate in the AASCD should transition to and will be assessed using the OLS.

Complexity Levels

The committee extended the Ohio Learning Standards to include three levels from "most complex" to "least complex". The complexity levels are comprised of three targets of varying difficulty aligned to each standard from the OLS. The extensions are codified individually for clear designation. The last letter in the extension code indicates the complexity level: "a" denotes the highest level of complexity, "b" denotes the middle complexity level and "c" denotes the lowest complexity level. In some instances, the committee tiered the verb of the extension to increase or decrease the complexity level. In other cases, the concept or skill within the OLS is tiered across the three complexity levels. It is important to move from left to right when reading the extensions. To determine where instruction should begin, educators should start with the general standard and then progress down through the complexity levels until finding the optimum starting point. It's important to note that no one should categorize students according to an extension level. Instead, instruction should build skills across the extensions to the highest level possible based on individual student strengths which may vary across standards. Ideally, when educators apply these extensions within each grade level one should see instruction occurring at all ranges of complexity. When citing standards for lessons and/or assessment design, educators should include the full complexity range, including the general standard. Citing standards in this way acknowledges a range of entry points and a range of learning progress.

*Complex and advanced learning standards in Ohio's New Learning Standards are not included in the extended standards.

Accessibility

The OLS-E do not specify individual accommodations or supports that may be necessary for students to access the curriculum. Teachers should consider the unique learning needs of each student and employ the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) designated supports and services when designing lessons. It is imperative that teachers provide specially designed instruction, assistive technology, accommodations and other supports needed to ensure full access to learning opportunities so that students can demonstrate their knowledge and skills.

Civic Participation and Skills
SS.3.9 Members of local communities have rights and responsibilities.	SS.3.9a Describe members of the local community and their responsibilities.	SS.3.9b Identify responsibilities that you have in your local school community.	SS.3.9c Identify a responsibility.
SS.3.10 Individuals make the community a better place by taking action to solve problems in a way that promotes the common good.	SS.3.10a Identify a problem in the community and how you would correct it.	SS.3.10b Match problems with action pictures that promote the common good.	SS.3.10c Identify individuals in the community who solve problems (e.g., firefighter puts out fires, doctor helps the ill).
Rules and Laws
SS.3.11 Laws are rules that apply to all people in a community and describe ways people are expected to behave. Laws promote order and security, provide public services and protect the rights of individuals in the local community.	SS.3.11a State a law and explain why it is important.	SS.3.11b Identify a rule and why it is important.	SS.3.11c Identify a rule and its expectations.
Roles and Systems of Government
SS.3.12 Governments have authority to make and enforce laws.	SS.3.12a Describe the ways laws are enforced by authority figures and government (e.g., establish fines, incarceration).	SS.3.12b Describe the ways rules are enforced by authority figures at a school (e.g., teacher, counselor, principal, security officer).	SS.3.12c Identify a person in the community who has the authority to enforce laws (e.g., game wardens, police officers, mayor, firefighters, safety patrol).
SS.3.13 The structure of local governments may differ from one community to another.	SS.3.13a Compare two types of local government structures that are different (e.g., municipal, county, township, special).	SS.3.13b Identify two types of local government structures that are different (e.g., municipal, county, township, special).	SS.3.13c Identify one type of local government structure (e.g., municipal, county, township, special).

Decision-Making and Skills
SS.3.14 Line graphs are used to show changes in data over time.	SS.3.14a Distinguish between line graphs that show positive and negative change over time.	SS.3.14b Identify both variables on a line graph.	SS.3.14c Recognize a line graph and identify one variable.
SS.3.15 Both positive and negative incentives affect individuals' choices and behaviors.	SS.3.15a Compare positive and negative cause and effect of a behavior (e.g., late library book versus reward for chore).	SS.3.15b Categorize examples of positive and negative incentives that affect a person's choice.	SS.3.15c Identify a positive or negative outcome of a choice or behavior.
Scarcity
SS.3.16 Individuals must make decisions because of the scarcity of resources. Making a decision involves a trade-off.	SS.3.16a Explain the "opportunity cost" when choosing which item or items to purchase.(e.g., Buy 3 of an item or just 1 of an item).	SS.3.16b Identify what is gained as a result of choosing not to make a purchase.	SS.3.16c Identify what is gained as the result of a purchasing decision.
Production and Consumption
SS.3.17 A consumer is a person whose wants are satisfied by using goods and services. A producer makes goods and/or provides services.	SS.3.17a Given a product or service, identify both the producer and potential consumer (e.g., corn produced by farmers and consumed by biofuels, grocery retailers, animals).	SS.3.17b Identify consumers for products or services (e.g., power plant would be a consumer of coal).	SS.3.17c Match goods or services to the producer (e.g., corn to a farmer, bread to a baker, mail to a postmaster).
Markets
SS.3.18 A market is where buyers and sellers exchange goods and services.	SS.3.18a Describe the different things you can do in a market (e.g., buy products, ask questions, look at different products, make returns).	SS.3.18b. Match goods/services to markets (e.g., gas to a gas station, bread to the grocery store, haircut to a barber).	SS.3.18c Identify places to buy things in the community (e.g., markets).

Early Civilizations
SS.6.2 Early civilizations (e.g., India, Egypt, China, Mesopotamia) had unique governments, economic systems, social structures, religions, technologies and agricultural practices and products. The cultural practices and products of these early civilizations can be used to help understand the Eastern Hemisphere today.	SS.6.2a Compare the key features of societies in the Eastern Hemisphere (e.g., Egypt, India, China, Mesopotamia).	SS.6.2b Identify key features of a specific society (e.g., government, religion, agriculture).	SS.6.2c Match a structure with its specific society (e.g., pyramid to Egypt).
Spatial Thinking and Skills
SS.6.3 Geographic tools can be used to gather, process and report information about people, places and environments. Cartographers decide which information to include and how it is displayed.	SS.6.3a Use appropriate maps, globes and other geographic tools (e.g., Internet) to locate various sites or places.	SS.6.3b Use the appropriate geographic tool to locate a specific place or piece of information.	SS.6.3c Identify a specific map for a specific purpose.
SS.6.4 Latitude and longitude can be used to identify absolute location.	SS.6.4a Utilize latitude and longitude to locate a major place and/or feature using a globe or a geographical tool.	SS.6.4b Locate a major feature and/or landform on a globe or using a geographical tool in relation to the equator.	SS.6.4c Locate the equator on a globe, map or geographical tool.

Human Systems
SS.6.6 The variety of physical environments within the Eastern Hemisphere influences human activities. Likewise, human activities modify the physical environment.	SS.6.6a Identify both positive and negative outcomes of a man-made environmental change occurring within the Eastern Hemisphere.	SS.6.6b Explain how human activities have altered physical environments (e.g., how humans contribute to pollution).	SS.6.6c Identify one way the environment has been disturbed due to human activities (e.g., pollution).
SS.6.7 In the past and today, political, environmental, social and economic factors have caused people, products and ideas to move from place to place in the Eastern Hemisphere.	SS.6.7a Compare and contrast the movement in the past and today of products and people from place to place in the Eastern Hemisphere.	SS.6.7b Describe factors that cause people to move away from or to an area.	SS.6.7c Identify ways people move from one place to another.
SS.6.8 Diffusion of agricultural practices and products, technologies, cultural practices and major world religions (e.g., Buddhism, Christianity, Hinduism, Islam and Judaism) impacted the Eastern Hemisphere.	SS.6.8a Determine one influence or impact that religion has had in the Eastern Hemisphere.	SS.6.8b Focusing on the Eastern Hemisphere, identify one characteristic of the major world religions.	SS.6.8c Identify different religions that have impacted the Eastern Hemisphere.
Civic Participation and Skills
SS.6.9 Different perspectives on a topic can be obtained from a variety of historic and contemporary sources and used to effectively communicate and defend an evidence-based claim. Sources should be examined for accuracy and credibility.	SS.6.9a Identify that different sources can have different perspectives on an issue (e.g., media sources, historical vs. contemporary, individual vs. group).	SS.6.9b Provide examples of differences of opinion on an issue between individuals or within a group.	SS.6.9c Identify an opinion.

Early Civilizations
SS.7.2 The civilizations that developed in Greece and Rome had an enduring impact on later civilizations. This legacy includes governance and law, engineering and technology, art and architecture, as well as literature and history. The Roman Empire also played an instrumental role in the spread of Christianity.	SS.7.2a Describe the impact that Ancient Greece and Rome have had on later civilizations.	SS.7.2b Identify key physical and human features of societies (e.g., houses, geography, laws, technology, buildings).	SS.7.2c Identify the physical and human features of the local community.
Feudalism and Transitions
SS.7.3 The Roman Empire collapsed due to various internal and external factors (political, social and economic) which led to the development of feudalism and the manorial system in the region. The fall of Rome and later invasions also allowed for the creation of new empires in the region.	SS.7.3a Describe the relationships between various social classes and the roles of the people within a feudal system (e.g., serfs, lords and ladies).	SS.7.3b Identify the various social roles of people within the feudal system (e.g., serfs, lords and ladies, etc.).	SS.7.3c Identify roles of people in a community (e.g., principal, teacher, peers).

National Security and International Diplomacy
CWI.9-12.15 Technologies inevitably involve trade-offs between costs and benefits. Decisions about the use of products and systems can result in intended and unintended consequences.	CWI.9-12.15a Analyze a current technology and its positive or negative consequences (e.g., benefit to human needs, cost factors in development).	CWI.9-12.15b Identify technological advances and the associated benefits to society (e.g., medical advances, new energy sources, computer technologies).	CWI.9-12.15c Match a technological advancement and its benefit to society (e.g., a defibrillator and the heart).
CWI.9-12.16 Nations seek to ensure the security of their geographic territories, political institutions, economic systems and ways of life. Maintaining security has political, social and economic costs, in services or products, creation of ethnic enclaves.	CWI.9-12.16a Research and describe governmental organizations that work to protect national security.	CWI.9-12.16b Identify a governmental organization that works to protect national security and explain what it does.	CWI.9-12.16c Identify a governmental organization that works to protect national security.
CWI.9-12.17 Economic, political and social differences between global entities can lead to conflict unless mitigated through diplomacy or cooperative efforts.	CWI.9-12.17a Explain how diplomatic efforts mitigate conflict.	CWI.9-12.17b Define diplomacy.	CWI.9-12.17c Identify a global organization that works to reduce conflicts.
CWI.9-12.18 Individuals and organizations work within, or outside of, established systems of power, authority and governance to influence their own security and the security of others.	CWI.9-12.18a Research and describe international and national organizations that work to protect national security.	CWI.9-12.18b Identify an international or national organization that works to protect national security and explain what it does.	CWI.9-12.18c Identify an international or national organization that works to protect national security.
Global Economy
CWI.9-12.19 The global economy creates advantages and disadvantages for different segments of the world's population.	CWI.9-12.19a Compare and contrast advantages and disadvantages to different segments of the population due to the global economy.	CWI.9-12.19b Describe a possible advantage or disadvantage for a segment of the population due to the global economy.	CWI.9-12.19c Identify a possible disadvantage for a segment of the population due to the global economy.

CWI.9-12.20 Trade agreements, multinational organizations, embargoes and protectionism impact markets.	CWI.9-12.20a Describe a product produced in the United States that is consumed in another country.	CWI.9-12.20b Identify a product produced in the United States and other countries.	CWI.9-12.20c Define trade agreements.
CWI.9-12.21 The distribution of wealth and economic power among countries changes over time.	CWI.9-12.21a Research and describe a country that has experienced economic change over time.	CWI.9-12.21b Identify various countries that have experienced economic change over time.	CWI.9-12.21c Identify a country that has experienced economic change over time.
CWI.9-12.22 The global economy creates interdependence so that economic circumstances in one country impact events in other countries.	CWI.9-12.22a Explain how a given economic circumstance in one country might impact events in another country.	CWI.9-12.22b Define economic interdependence.	CWI.9-12.22c Identify two countries that currently experience economic interdependence.

Spatial Thinking and Skills
WG.9-12.1 Properties and functions of geographic representations (e.g., maps, globes, graphs, diagrams, Internet-based mapping applications, geographic information systems, global positioning systems, remote sensing, geographic visualizations) affect how they can be used to represent, analyze and interpret geographic patterns and processes.	WG.9-12.1a Define the properties and functions of a geographic representation (e.g., maps, globes, graphs, diagrams, Internet-based mapping applications, geographic information systems, remote sensing, geographic visualizations).	WG.9-12.1b Identify the properties and functions of a specific map to determine its purpose (e.g., weather, location, store locations, bus line).	WG.9-12.1c Sort maps based on their purpose.
WG.9-12.2 Geographic representations and geospatial technologies are used to investigate, analyze and communicate the results of geographic problem-solving.	WG.9-12.2a Compare and contrast geographic representations and geospatial technologies to investigate their purposes.	WG.9-12.2b Identify the purpose of a geographic representation or geospatial technology.	WG.9-12.2c Match the geographic representation or geospatial technology with a device that supports it (e.g., GPS in car or phone).
Environment and Society
WG.9-12.3 Human modifications of the physical environment in one place often lead to changes in other places (e.g., construction of a dam provides downstream flood control; construction of a city bypass reduces commercial activity in the city center; implementation of dry farming techniques in a region leads to new transportation links and hubs).	WG.9-12.3a Describe human changes to the environment in given areas that led to changes in other areas.	WG.9-12.3b Identify human changes to the environment in one area that led to change in another area.	WG.9-12.3c Identify human modifications that can change the environment (e.g., highway, factory, dam).
WG.9-12.4 Human societies use a variety of strategies to adapt to the opportunities and constraints presented by the physical environment (e.g., farming in flood plains and terraced farming, building hydroelectric plants by waterfalls and constructing hydroelectric dams, using solar panels as a heat source and using extra insulation to retain heat).	WG.9-12.4a Describe ways society has adapted to an opportunity or constraint presented by the physical environment.	WG.9-12.4b Identify one way a society has adapted to an opportunity or constraint presented by the physical environment.	WG.9-12.4c Identify a potential adaptation to a physical environment (e.g., solar panel, hydroelectric plant).

WG.9-12.5 Physical processes influence the formation and distribution of renewable, non-renewable and flow resources (e.g., tectonic activity plays a role in the formation and location of fossil fuels; erosion plays a role in the formation of sedimentary rocks; rainfall patterns affect regional drainage patterns).	WG.9-12.5a Identify ways renewable and non-renewable resources are used by people.	WG.9-12.5b Distinguish between renewable and non-renewable resources.	WG.9-12.5c Identify resources that are renewable and non-renewable.
WG.9-12.6 There are costs and benefits of using renewable, non-renewable and flow resources (e.g., availability, sustainability, environmental impact, expense).	WG.9-12.6a Compare and contrast the costs and benefits of using renewable and non-renewable resources.	WG.9-12.6b Match a renewable and non-renewable resources with its cost or benefit.	WG.9-12.6c Identify resources that are renewable and non-renewable.
WG.9-12.7 Human interaction with the environment is affected by cultural characteristics and technological resources (e.g., plowing with oxen or with tractors, development of water resources for industry or recreation, resource conservation or development).	WG.9-12.7a Research how human interactions within the environment are affected by culture and by technological resources.	WG.9-12.7b Identify a cultural characteristic or technological resource that is affected by human interaction.	WG.9-12.7c Match a cultural characteristic or technological resource and how it is affected by human interaction (e.g., plowing with oxen vs. plowing with tractors).
Movement
WG.9-12.8 Physical, cultural, economic and political factors contribute to human migrations (e.g., drought, religious conflicts, job opportunities, immigration laws).	WG.9-12.8a Research and explain factors that contribute to human migrations.	WG.9-12.8b Describe factors that contribute to human migrations.	WG.9-12.8c Identify a factor that contributes to human migrations.
WG.9-12.9 Human migrations impact physical and human systems (e.g., stress on food supplies in refugee camps, removal of natural obstacles to movement, harvest productivity and migrant labor, calls for an official language in countries with high immigration, reduction in city tax revenues due to urban emigration).	WG.9-12.9a Explain the impact immigration has for a geographical area (e.g., new stores, restaurants, buildings, parks, etc.).	WG.9-12.9b Identify several impacts of human migrations to a given area (e.g., road expansion, new schools, more restaurants, etc.).	WG.9-12.9c Identify an impact of human migrations to a given area (e.g., road expansion, new schools, more restaurants, etc.).

WG.9-12.10 Activities and patterns of trade and communication create interdependence among countries in different regions (e.g., seed corn grown in Iowa and planted in South America, high-definition televisions manufactured in Japan and viewed in the United States, news outlets from many countries available around the world via the Internet, instant access to data affecting stock markets in different countries).	WG.9-12.10a Explain how a commonly used product is produced used, and supported in different parts of the world.	WG.9-12.10b Illustrate the interdependence using a common product or buisness.(e.g., vehicle made from different parts around the world).	WG.9-12.10c Identify items that have been made in another country.
Region
WG.9-12.11 Criteria are used to organize regions and as the criteria change, the identified regions change (e.g., types of economic activities, ethnic groups, natural vegetation).	WG.9-12.11a Define the characteristics (formal, functional and perceptual) of an identified region.	WG.9-12.11b Describe physical and human characteristics of the local region.	WG.9-12.11c Identify human or physical characteristics of the local region.
WG.9-12.12 The characteristics of regions change over time and there are consequences related to those changes (e.g., industrial belt to rust belt, pristine locations to tourist attractions, colony to independent state).	WG.9-12.12a Explain ways that a region changes due to human activity (e.g., industrial belt to rust belt, pristine locations to tourist attractions, colony to independent state).	WG.9-12.12b Identify changes that have occurred in various regions over time.	WG.9-12.12c Identify a change that has occurred in a given region over time.
WG.9-12.13 There are interconnections within and among physical and human regions (e.g., river systems, transportation linkages, common currency).	WG.9-12.13a Compare and contrast the interconnections among physical and human regions the characteristics of an identified region.	WG.9-12.13b Describe physical and human characteristics of a region.	WG.9-12.13c Identify human or physical characteristics of a region.
WG.9-12.14 Regions are used as a basis to analyze global geographic issues (e.g., desertification, political disputes, economic unions).	WG.9-12.14a Research and explain how a region is impacted by geographical issues.	WG.9-12.14b Identify ways that a region is impacted by a geographical issue.	WG.9-12.14c Identify one way that a region is impacted by a geographical issue.

Human Settlement
WG.9-12.15 Patterns of settlement change over time in terms of functions, sizes and spatial patterns (e.g., a canal town becomes an industrial city, a rural area becomes a transportation hub, cities merge into a megalopolis).	WG.9-12.15a Evaluate patterns of human settlement over time.	WG.9-12.15b Given a pattern of human development, identify how that settlement has changed over time.	WG.9-12.15c Sequence two or more settlement changes in a region over time.
WG.9-12.16 Urbanization provides opportunities and challenges for physical and human systems in cities and their surrounding regions (e.g., development of suburbs, loss of habitat, central markets, squatter settlements on city outskirts, regional specialization in services or products, creation of ethnic enclaves).	WG.9-12.16a Compare and contrast the pros and cons of urbanization.	WG.9-12.16b Explain urbanization (who, what, where, when, how/why).	WG.9-12.16c Identify a pro or a con of urbanization.
Globalization
WG.9-12.17 Globalization has shaped new cultural, economic and political ideas and entities (e.g., universal human rights, European Union, terrorist networks).	WG.9-12.17a Summarize the consequences (cultural, economic, physical or political) of globalization.	WG.9-12.17b Identify an impact of globalization on cultural, economic or political ideas.	WG.9-12.17c Match an impact on globalization on whether it is cultural, economic or political.
WG.9-12.18 Globalization has cultural, economic, physical and political consequences (e.g., Internet access increases availability of information, outsourcing leads to regional unemployment, development impacts local ecosystems and economies, computer hacking into sensitive databases leads to insecurity).	WG.9-12.18a Summarize the consequences (cultural, economic, physical or political) of globalization.	WG.9-12.18b Identify several consequences of globalization.	WG.9-12.18c Match the consequences of globalization with its area of impact (cultural, economic, physical or political).
WG.9-12.19 Global trade and communication systems reduce the effect of time on the distribution of goods, services and information (e.g., sustainability of perishable foods, online brokering versus personal brokers, Internet access versus library access).	WG.9-12.19a Compare and contrast communication systems to reduce the effect of time on distribution of goods, services and information.	WG.9-12.19b Identify the effect of a given cause of global trade that reduces the effect of time on distribution of goods, services and information.	WG.9-12.19c Sequence global trade and communication systems that reduce the effect of time on the distribution of goods, services and information.

Acknowledgements

The Ohio Department of Education's Office of Curriculum and Assessment and Office for Exceptional Children collaborated to develop Ohio Learning Standards-Extended. A writing committee, comprised of special educators, regular educators, administrators, parents and other stakeholders around the state of Ohio came together to create these Extensions.

Ohio Learning Standards-Extended would not be possible without the support of all who worked tirelessly to create a guiding tool to support access to the general education curriculum for all students. The following individuals served on our writing committee, providing extensive time, dedication, thought and expertise to this project. Sincere appreciation goes to:
